ARREST OF YOUNG FORGER IS NEAR

Cletis Miller, Who Passed Number of Worthless Checks Here, is Traced to Connersville.

AT JOHN GRAY'S HOME, ALSO

Develops Since Yesterday That Other Business Men Cashed Checks—All of Them Crude.

The arrest of Cletis Miller, the youthful check forger who operated successfully here and at Connersville using the name of his employer John A. Gray was expected today. Prosecutor Stevens received direct word last evening that Miller was in Connersville and a warrant for his arrest was sent there.

The authorities fully believed that Miller would be arrested before night and they expected the sheriff of Fayette county to find him in Connersville. Miller did not take advantage of the opportunity to get out of the state on the money he obtained by issuing the bad checks. This is shown by the fact that he was in Connersville yesterday and even ventured so far as to come to the home of Gray, east of the city.

The checks issued by Miller were very crude. The writing was very poor and a close inspection of the checks would show that they were forged. One of the checks given by Miller had only the figure six to tell what the amount was, and the check was not properly filled. It was for this reason that the checks were turned down by some of the merchants.

Since it became public property Thursday that Cletis Miller obtained $24 on four forged checks here and $10 on one at Connersville, it has developed that others were victims of the youthful amateur and it is anticipated that even others may have given good cash for his worthless paper.

It was just learned Thursday evening that Abercrombie's jewelry store cashed a check for $6 presented by Miller, on John Gray, and that when Miller tried to get money on a similar check in Kelley's grocery store, he was refused. He endeavored to cash a check for $6 at Bliss & Cowing's and made two efforts to get the same amount at Casady's dry goods store. At the latter place he appeared nervous, it is stated.

Six dollars was Miller's favorite sum. All checks cashed here were

MAKES HEAVY SACRIFICE TO BRING RUSHVILLE HER CHRISTMAS TREE

"Uncle" Jeff, Davis Drives 24 Miles on Day of Many Changing Moods to Arrive on Time

EVERGREEN IS 35½ FEET HIGH

For the beautiful Christmas tree that will soon adorn the court house lawn, the weather permitting, the people of Rushville and Rush county will be indebted to "Uncle" Jeff Davis, of near Clarksburg, who Thursday braved the elements of a terrible winter day of many changing moods to bring the evergreen to this city.

"Uncle" Jeff, pulled in Thursday night about seven o'clock with the mammoth tree on a big wagon. He

D. A. R. WILL BUY BRONZE TABLET

Proceeds From Sale of Sketch of Rush County Will be Used to Purchase a Memorial.

MAY BE PUT IN COURT HOUSE

The chairman of the history committee of the Rushville chapter of the D. A. R. reported at the regular meeting Thursday afternoon that about three hundred copies of the sketches of Rush county, written by Mrs. Mary M. Alexander, are now on sale. The proceeds from the sale will be used to buy a bronze tablet with the names on it of all of the soldiers of the Revolution buried in Rush county. The tablet will be placed either in the court house or on a boulder on the court house lawn. The chapter hopes to be ready to unveil the tablet the morning of the day Rush county celebrates the centennial. The members of the chapter asks the co-operation of the people of the county in selling the books.

It was decided that the Christmas work of the chapter would be done this year by a committee visiting the county poor asylum. Gifts will be taken to the old people who are inmates and a song and prayer service will be held. The meeting was at the home of Miss Alice Norris and was attended by sixteen members.

Thomas McManus has filed a petition in the circuit court for the appointment of a guardian for his son, Carl McManus. Carl McManus was recently taken to the insane asylum at Madison.

Deputy Auditor Bales Distributes Balance Remaining in Road Funds After Construction.

ALL COUNTY LINE HIGHWAYS

Money Remaining Will be Placed in The Fund For the Redemption of Gravel Road Bonds.

Deputy Auditor Bales has distributed the balances remaining in the road funds after the construction of several county line roads. Rush county has built roads in connection with Fayette, Franklin, Hancock and Shelby counties and the money remaining from the various funds will be sent to these counties to be placed in the fund for the redemption of gravel road bonds.

On the Charles Elwell, et al., road there is a balance of $401.70. Of this amount Washington township will receive $201.47 and Fairview township, Fayette county will get $66.75 and Posey township of Fayette county will receive $133.48.

There remains a total of $369.72 from the construction of the George Looney road. Union township will receive $63.83 and Noble township gets $122.49. From this road Orange township, Fayette county will receive $183.40.

The third road involving Fayette and Rush counties is the J. A. DeArmond road. There is a balance in this road fund of $231.85. Franklin county is also involved, as a section of the road is in Posey township, Franklin county. The balance is divided as follows: Rush county—Richland township, $32.67; Noble township, $83.25. Fayette county—Orange township, $82.67. Franklin county—Posey township, $33.26.

The other road on which a distribution will be made is the Murray Moore road, which was built by Hancock, Shelby and Rush counties. A balance of $430.59 results from the sale of bonds after the payment for the construction was made. The fund is divided as follows: Rush county—Ripley township, $125.32; Posey township, $89.97. Shelby county—Hanover township, $91.27. Hancock county—Blue River township, $124.03.

WANTS $500 FOR DAMAGES TO AUTO

Otto F. Bussard Brings Suit Against John E. Kirkpatrick as Outgrowth of Accident.

NEGLIGENCE IS THE CHARGE

Otto F. Bussard, through his attorneys Kiplinger and Smith, filed suit for damages today against John E. Kirkpatrick, demanding $500. The suit is the outgrowth of an automobile accident occurring on the Ogden road September 30. The complaint alleges that Bussard was driving south on this road towards Rushville and that Kirkpatrick was driving an automobile north on the road approaching Bussard.

It is alleged that Kirkpatrick drove at a high rate of speed and in a careless and negligent manner, and in passing the Bussard machine failed to turn to the right out of the beaten path of travel. Bussard alleged that the machine was damaged to the extent of $500.

GOOD FELLOWS ARE ON LAST LAP

Only One Week to Christmas and There Are 154 Children to be Cared For in That Time.

NEW NAMES ARE ADDED TODAY

League's Members Will Have to do Lot of Hustling in Seven Days to Disappoint None.

The Good Fellows League was in the same condition today that it was yesterday—a lot of new names were added to the list and none was taken off. At any rate, the Good Fellows know now what is expected of them. There are not likely to be any more names put on the list because the city has been covered. The total yet to be cared for is one hundred and fifty-four. That is a large number with Christmas only one week away. But the Good Fellows have never made a failure on the proposition. They have never been found wanting when there are children who may go without Christmas unless the Good Fellows help.

The wards of the League are going to have to be taken off the list at a merry clip in order to get all of them into the hands of some Good Fellows before Christmas.

Undoubtedly there are plenty of Good Fellows left who want to help. All they need is to realize the importance of their assistance. So, that being the case, let's get down to cases, so the Good Fellows may know some conditions that actually exist here.

One investigator told of a family living in a house in the western part of the city that had no window panes in the windows. Their home consists of two small rooms and a lean-to kitchen. Some of the holes in the windows are stuffed with rags and others are wide open. There are four children in the family.

Listen to some of these notations after statistics about families:

"Works only part of time—drinks." That's the sad story of one home with three little folks ranging in age from six years to four months. It would be hard to discount their prospects for Christmas, but for the Good Fellows.

"Father is a carpenter, but has no steady work. Is out of work now." There are three children in that family.

"Father has steady work at—Mother is afflicted—just had an operation—can't see well. They can not make expenses."

"Father has steady work, but they do not get along financially. Father works at—, but can not well provide for eight on his wages."

TENTATIVE PRIZE LIST FOR CORN SHOW

Committee Arranges Premiums and Asks That Merchants See Members to Offer Merchandise.

$35 IN CASH ALONE OFFERED

The committee on prizes for the corn show which will be held here on Saturday, January 28, before the farmers short course opens on Monday, January 24, announced today that at a meeting Thursday evening it was decided to offer the following prizes:

For the best ten ears of white corn, $15 in cash; second prize, $7 in merchandise; third prize, $4 in merchandise.

For the best ten ears of yellow corn, $15 in cash; second prize, $7 in merchandise; third prize, $4 in merchandise.

For the best ear of white corn, $2.50 in cash.

For the best ear of yellow corn, $2.50 in cash.

The committee, which is composed of Wilbur Stiers, L. M. Sexton and Ralph Payne, asks that merchants who want to offer merchandise as prizes, are asked to see one member of the committee at once so that the prize list may be completed. If more merchandise than the tentative list calls for is offered, it will be divided proportionately and will make the show much more attractive.

DIPLOMATIC BREAK IS NOT EXPECTED

Berlin Believes Controversy Over Ancona Will be Settled Just as Lusitania Case Was.

AUSTRIA UPHOLDS DIGNITY

(By United Press.) Berlin, Dec. 17.—Berlin does not expect any diplomatic break between Austria and the United States as a result of Austria's failure to comply with American demands.

Austria is willing to make important concessions to prevent such a break. Another exchange of notes probably will clear the whole situation.

"Austria, having maintained her position in a dignified manner in her reply, can now gracefully yield to America in a subsequent note," said a high official.

"To have yielded at once would have raised a storm of protest in Vienna. There is every reason to believe that the Austrian-American controversy will be solved just as the trouble over the Lusitania was settled."

CABINET READS AUSTRIA'S REPLY

United States Program is Agreed Upon and Secretary Lansing Will Prepare Rejoinder.

WILL TAKE IT TO WILSON

President Will Leave on Honeymoon Saturday Night and Can't Assist in Preparation.

(By United Press.) Washington, Dec. 17.—President Wilson and the cabinet today read Austria's unsatisfactory reply to the American note on the sinking of the Ancona and determined this government's course. Tomorrow evening the president will depart on his wedding trip, leaving Secretary Lansing to carry out the policies agreed upon.

The secretary will draft a definite, final rejoinder that is expected to mean one of three things.

The severance of diplomatic relations or complete breakdown by Austria or the presentation of evidence by Austria that entirely refutes the statements of her admiralty on which statement the first vigorous American note was based.

This note, the secretary will take to President Wilson. With the latter's approval he will return to Washington and dispatch it to the foreign office in Vienna. It will leave no loop-hole, it is declared, for the prolonged negotiations for which Austria's note received today is considered to be bidding.

The new note, it is confidently believed, will in effect be an ultimatum. There is just one step of preventing severance of diplomatic relations. That is that Austria can furnish Washington with facts that can not be questioned by anyone, admitting at the same time that the version of the Ancona attack presented by the Austrian admiralty was wrong and even this chance will be worthless unless Austria can present the facts promptly.

Austria's reply to the Ancona note has been in the hands of the state department all day. It was received shortly after midnight. Work of decoding the message began at once and it will be placed before Secretary Lansing.

The note is about one thousand words long. It took about thirty hours for its coding and transmission. It was handed to Ambassador Penfield at noon Wednesday.

It will be made public only after Secretary Lansing and President have studied it. Every effort was made to get the answer decoded to lay it before the cabinet at its meeting today.

Fashion

Some one had described fashion as "the art of making the many wear what is becoming only to the few."

There is wit if not wisdom in the definition.

Nevertheless, few men or women have the courage to utterly disregard the "mode."

They want to be in sartorial tune with public opinion.

They take it as a mark of knowing "what's what."

And for this reason most people like to glance through the advertising in a live newspaper like The Daily Republican to see news of fashion.

for that amount. But Miller disrespected a little at Connersville and got $10. Mr. Gray, it is stated, has corresponded with the boy's parents in South Carolina.

It was learned today that Miller appeared at the home of John Gray Thursday afternoon and it is reported that he admitted that he had secured money on the worthless paper. It is said that Miller had no idea that he had violated any law, but his sole object in calling on his employer was to straighten out matters with Gray, because he thought Gray would have to make good all of these bad checks which he had passed.

He went from Gray's to Connersville Thursday evening, it was reported, and for that reason a bench warrant was issued from the circuit court here and sent to Connersville in an effort to catch the youthful forger.

NEW AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO NAMED

Washington, Dec. 17.—Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania was appointed ambassador to Mexico today.

Fletcher was appointed ambassador to Chile in 1914. His salary as ambassador to Mexico will be the same, $17,500. The matter of his successor at Santiago has not been taken up.

Fletcher is a Republican. He was chosen because of his insight into South and Central American politics. It is believed the president will consider a man from Indiana as Fletcher's successor in Chile, since it has long been the custom to appoint the ambassador to Mexico from that state.

Real Christmas Spirit

In planning a merry Christmas for your friends, do not let it mean a miserable Christmas to those less fortunate to you and yours. Thousands of workers in every city have been taught the terrible experience to look forward to Christmas with a bitter dread. Every girl working in retail stores knows that the coming of the holiday season will mean to her an immense amount of extra work, of nervous strain and exhaustion. The great army of workers look ahead to Christmas as a time of hardship.

Is that your conception of the day?

A little unselfishness on your part will serve to lighten greatly the burden of these people. Merely do your Christmas shopping early—early in the week and early in the day.

By so doing you will not only relieve the clerks and errand boys of the necessity of serving you at the last moment, but escape the annoyance of finding that the very gifts you most desired are already sold.

Carry these messages to your friends and urge them to help lift the burden from the overworked folks who wait on you.

Inspect the advertisements of the live merchants in the Daily Republican. They will tell you of a wide variety of Christmas gifts. You do not have to leave Rushville to find what you want.

Afraid of Themselves

In the last congress the Democratic majority in the House was 135. The ratio of Democrats and Republicans was as slightly more than two to one. The committees of the House contain twenty-one members and the Democrats were justified in arranging the number to comprise fourteen Democrats to seven Republicans.

In this Congress, the Democratic majority is only twenty-five. The ratio of Democrats to Republicans is but slightly more than one to one; and the committees containing twenty-one members should comprise eleven Democrats and ten Republicans—or, at the utmost, twelve Democrats and nine Republicans.

Yet the Democrats intend to make no such arrangement. They purpose to maintain their numerical ascendancy on the committees. Publicly they give no reason for this except that they have the power to do so and that they intend to exercise that power. However, it is well known that the Democratic leaders are afraid to diminish their party representation on the committees of the House.

The Democratic party is honey-combed with sedition. One or two Bryan men on a committee, made up in just proportions, could at any time throw the control of the committee into Republican hands. The House is full of prospective rebels and the leaders intend to take no chances.

In effect, the Democratic party is afraid of itself. It cannot trust to the loyalty of its own members. Yet that party, in such a condition, is entering upon a session of Congress in which larger and more momentous issues are at stake than for a generation of past legislation. That party, in such a condition, expects to control the decision of those issues.

Attorney General Gregory has rendered an opinion that the organization of the Federal Reserve Bank districts is not reviewable. The law says it is not reviewable "except by the reserve board." Which is to govern? The law of Mr. Gregory's opinion?

Andrew Carnegie has reduced his fortune to about $20,000,000. He had about twenty-five times that sum to start with. Query: If Carnegie used McAdoo's system of bookkeeping how large would his fortune appear to be?

It is said that the Federal Trade Commission will have no legislative recommendations for Congress at this session. But it will put up a loud demand for an increased appropriation just the same.

Secretary Tumulty, though an Irishman, returns a Scotch verdict of "not proven" in response to the charges that Carranza's men have abused the women of religious orders in Mexico.

What a glorious thing it would be if 1916 could find Rushville without a knocker, and with everyone a booster. And it could, if you would.

Germany reports a serious decline in the birth rate. Among the other sins this war has to answer for is taking the pop out of population.

Congressman Chandler of New York and Congressman Copley of Illinois, Progressives, announce their adherence hence forward to the regular Republican party. Next!

The session of Congress began normally. Champ Clark was elected speaker and Aaron P. Prioleau contested somebody's seat.

No wonder T. R. and "Billy" Sunday denounce the Ford trip so bitterly, as it has crowded them off the front page.

We can stand almost any kind of man. But the fellow who gives you a hand like a limp fish to shake isn't one of them.

Another pathetic little feature of every day life is the way a woman always wants $1.25 for something right away.

A 35-year old dame can drop five years from her age and fool most of the men. But she can't fool the other women.

The Crew of the Chinese cruiser Chang-Ho has mutinied. We aren't the only nation having trouble with its hyphenates.

We see by the papers that another munitions plant has just booked a $1,000,000,000 order of mysterious explosions.

A Cincinnati woman says that thousands have died from kissing. Oh Death where is thy sting.

It will be news to a lot of people that LaFollette left any American ships for the British to seize.

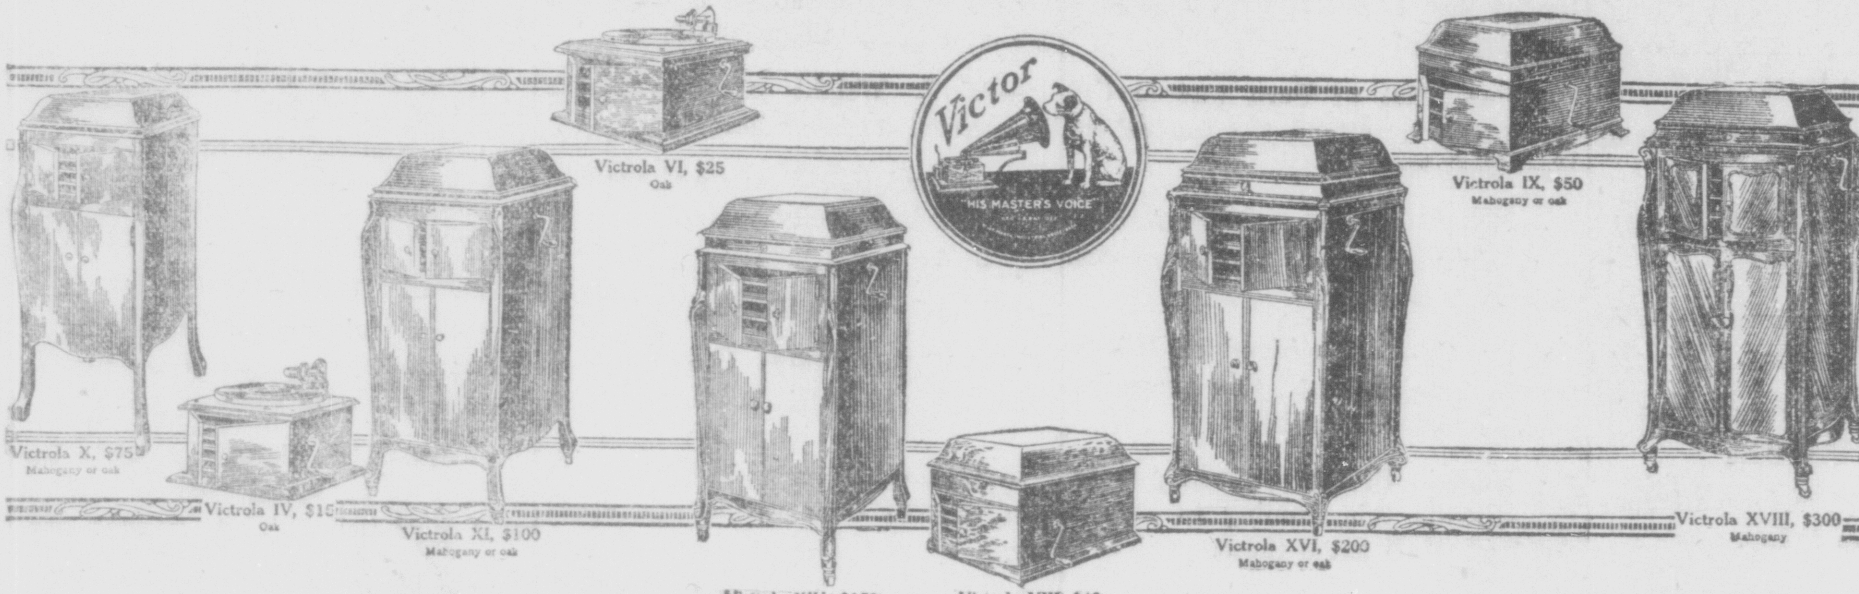

We can make it a prosperous year if we get together and pull together. Let's get and let's pull.

Wonder what the new year will have in store for Rushville?

Yes, congress is on the job again. Poor old job!

And may they be even more than merry!

Many more Merry Christmases, too!

Current Comments

Not Blinded.

(Pittston, Pa., Gazette.)

Not even the excitement of a near-world war, nor the necessity which the American people feel for holding up their executive's hands in his dealings with foreign powers, can blind them to the weaknesses of a domestic party policy that has reduced the country to the most depressed financial and industrial condition that has been experienced in America in a quarter of a century. The Democratic internal policy of a low tariff, coupled with unparalleled extravagance in federal expenditures, has not only brought about a most unusual deficit in national finances that is steadily becoming more serious, but has also hammered down investment values to the extent of billions of dollars, brought countless reputable and well-managed industrial concerns to the verge of ruin, and has made idlers of hundreds of thousands of industrious workingmen.

With these facts staring them in the face, day after day, it is to be wondered that the American people anxiously await the hour when the opportunity shall come for the restoration to power of a national administration based on the tried and proved principle that maintained steadily increasing prosperity for a long period of years? Can it be considered strange that capitalists and workingmen everywhere are joining hands in a political movement for the restoration of our old-time industrial prestige? And is there not abundant reason for the pronounced sentiment among Republicans of every faction in favor of putting aside petty family disputes and presenting a solid front to the enemy next year?

The evergreen is perfectly formed, "Uncle" Jeff. says, and is of the red cedar variety, the kind that is always a beautiful hue of green. "Uncle" Jeff. went into the thing thoroughly when he was expounding on the value of this particular tree.

"You see," he said, "there are evergreens, and there are evergreens. The red cedar is always a bright green, but the white cedar is a dull brown. You never want a white cedar for a Christmas tree."

"I've known that tree for forty-five years," declared the venerable old man from Clarksburg, growing reminiscent. "She is about as fine a type of cedar as I ever saw."

Even after Mr. Davis drove twenty-four miles Thursday through a hard rain in order to have the tree here on time, it was doubtful whether it could be erected this afternoon because of the incessant rain.

The tree will be located on the court house lawn, the commissioners having granted the Chamber of Commerce committees that privilege. The city light plant will wire the tree free of charge and the city will furnish the current free of charges. A special committee will look after the decorations.

Mr. Davis also brought James E. Watson and John A. Tittsworth a small tree for their homes at the same time he brought the municipal tree.

WAR TAX BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Emergency Revenue Measure Goes
Through Thursday Night With
Vote 205 to 189.

WILL PROVIDE $80,000,000.00

Washington, Dec. 17.—The House last night by a vote of 205 to 189 passed the joint resolution extending the emergency revenue tax until Dec. 31, 1916. The Senate is expected to take like action on the measure in a day or two.

The law is expected by administration leaders to bring revenue into the treasury at the rate of $82,000,000 a year.

The Republicans, voting solidly against the resolution, were joined by the five Progressives and five Democrats: Calloway, Texas; Hillard and Keating, Colorado; Buchanan, Illinois, and Wingo, Arkansas. Several proposed amendments to shorten the period of extension were voted down.

Representative Kitchen of North Carolina, in his first speech as majority leader, told the House that unless the law was extended the treasury would face a deficit of more than $81,000,000 at the end of the next fiscal year.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

State Grange Calls For Repeal of Law Creating Road Heads—Against Motor Routes.

ALSO AGAINST PROHIBITION

Columbus, Ind., Dec. 17.—The forty-fifth annual meeting of the State Grange closed here last night and visiting delegates declare the convention the best in the history of the organization. The attendance is said to have been much larger than ever before. The meeting closed with the installation of new officers and the passing of the annual word. Thursday's sessions were devoted almost wholly to debate and action on resolutions.

The grange adopted resolutions favoring the repeal of the law providing for county highway superintendents, disapproving the proposed fifty-mile automobile rural mail routes, and favoring woman suffrage, nation-wide prohibition and a rural credit law under the head of education. The grange adopted resolutions protesting against the garb of the modern high school girl and demanding one not so heartily like the evening gowns of society women. The election of county school superintendents by popular vote was demanded, and the consolidation of schools was approved. A resolution providing that no school pupil be required to ride in a transportation hack more than four miles and that not more than sixteen pupils be crowded into one hack was killed. Another resolution demands that cities which accept money for liquor licenses care for their own drunks instead of requiring them to be cared for at the expense of the county.

School For Indiana Farmers Will be Held at Purdue University January 10 to 15.

PRORAM IS ABOUT READY

State Corn Show Will be Held in Connection With Short Course,
200 Premiums Offered.

The Fourteenth Annual Farmers Short Course will be held at Purdue University January 10-15, 1915. The program for this great event has been completed and will be ready for distribution in a short time. Due to the interest in almost every section of the state a large attendance is expected. Last year more than 384 boys and girls attended this course as a result of the contest and club work carried on in connection with the schools. County agents in the various counties will also be instrumental in bringing large numbers of representative people. The coming course will see a much larger number of boys and girls as well as a large number of women. At the present time there are more than one hundred Economics Classes organized in the state that are working in co-operation with the Extension Department. These organizations will send representatives to the Short Course. The Indiana Home Economics Association which has a large membership throughout the state will hold its annual meeting during this week and will be instrumental in bringing large numbers to Purdue.

To handle this large number of people in addition to the regular students of the University is a problem that the authorities have to solve. In some cases it will be necessary attention and assistance be given to the farmers and their families. The second week in January is recognized as the great agricultural, educational feast and brings the farmers back year after year for information and inspiration.

In connection with the Farmers Short Course the State Corn Show will be held. Something more than two hundred premiums will be offered which insures a large and high class exhibit of corn, wheat and oats.

MEETS WITH SUCCESS.

Word has been received here from the Rev. J. H. O. Four Jumps to Salonika

In Heart of Stormy Balkans

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Salonica, Nov. 1. (By Mail)—Here's the World War news center. At last the stormy little Balkans have come into the world's eye.

Correspondents from all corners of what used to be civilization flock here to be near the great German push 400 miles north of us.

There are other lesser correspondents hanging around the hotels of Salonica, mostly queerly dressed chaps with queer habits and manners, newspaper men from European countries who have spent their lives in the Balkans trying to get the busy world interested in their little affairs; men who have lived in queer Balkan cities and have dashed madly to the Balkan telegraph offices in times past with news items which they themselves thought tremendously important but which were honored with tiny headlines in the newspapers of the world.

These Balkan-fan journalists knew that some day the Balkans would explode. The day has come. The explosion has occurred.

At last the feet of European armies are pounding the Balkan highways; European cannon, machine guns and rifles sound through the Balkan hills and European spades eat trenches in the Balkan soil.

In the Olympus Palace Hotel, or the water front, gathered around the tiny tables in the cafes, are the officers of the British, French Russian and Greek armies, a melange of color and language. And these Balkan journalists—English, French and Italian—chatter gaily, wisely of the great day which has come at last.

Salonica harbor is filled with great boats, warships, torpedo boats, hospital ships, and two or three boats which have huge American flags painted on their sides and which are making small fortunes for their owners in running the submarine quantlet with supplies for the Balkan allies.

That busy harbor of itself is enough to delight the soul of the Balkan journalist. But last evening, just at sundown, came the climax of his excitement. An areoplane was soaring over the bay of Salonica. Behind it, across the harbor, loomed Mount Olympus, where the old Greek gods used to live and cut their capers.

Just to see an areoplane with Olympus, which has been peaceful and quiet ever since the gods died, as a background, was enough to prove to the Balkan experts that the great day really had come at last.

To top it off, the engine of the aeroplane weakened in its stroke, the machine came nearer and nearer to the water. It had wheels instead of boats beneath its planes and when its momentum was gone and it came to the surface of the bay, it dug its nose fifteen or twenty feet into the water, pilot and all, and then stood on end with its tail in the air.

Here was a catastrophe of the World War, right at the foot of Olympus. The Balkan experts watched the aviators come to the surface, climb into the half sunken planes and wait for three tug boats in the harbor to rush to the rescue.

Then they went back to the Olympus Palace cafe where the French old timers in the Balkans ordered absinthe—which one cannot buy in Paris—and the others ordered whiskey and soda, over which they thrashed out the whole problem of the value of areoplanes in Balkan warfare, happy at last to be able to say.

"The eyes of the world are not on the French front or on the Russian front. They are on the Balkans, as I have always said they would be; and here the World War will be thrashed out."

Because Americans are learning to make suitable gifts at Christmas time—and learning that Tuxedo is the best gift of all for a man.

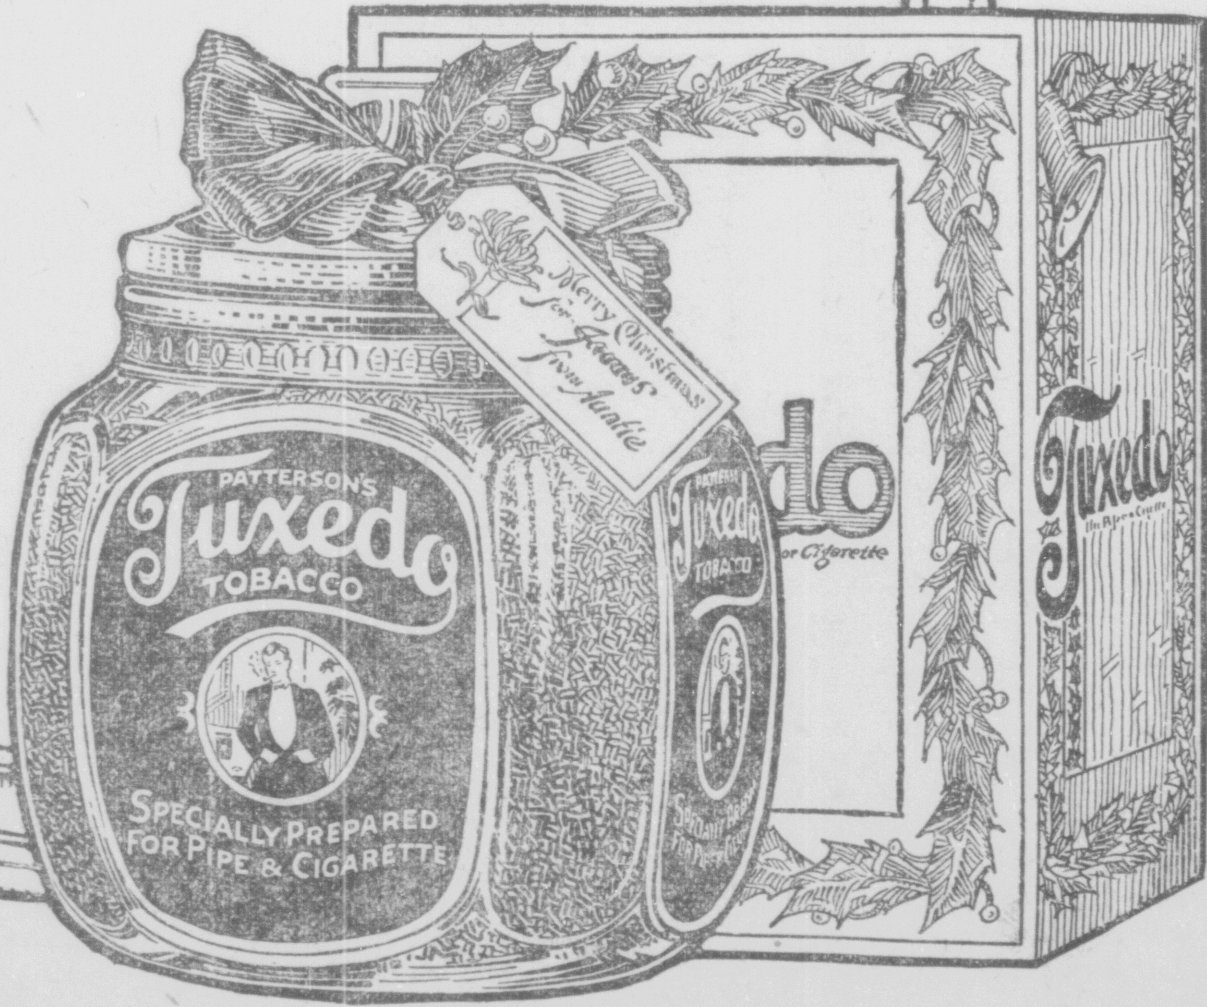

Tuxedo is the mildest, pleasantest pipe tobacco in the world—made absolutely non-biting and delightfully mellow by the original "Tuxedo Process" that has never been successfully imitated.

Last Christmas the demand for Tuxedo humidor jars was so great that the supply of many dealers was exhausted, and thousands of people were disappointed. The safe plan is to place your order with your dealer now. He will be glad to set your jar aside for you until Christmas.

Speaker at Southern Commercial
Congress Declares Country Needs
System of Rural Credits

MEETING CLOSES TONIGHT

Farmers Urged to Become Business
Men—Want Immigration
Laws Changed

(By United Press.)

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 17.—That the economic agricultural system in Germany has placed the German empire among the great powers of the world will be told the Southern Commercial congress tonight by David Lubin, United States delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

"If our nation is to persist and prosper, there must be a conservation of our farmers," Lubin said today. "The farmer must take his place, as a commercial peer alongside the business man of the city. This alone will bring about that economic equilibrium so essential to the life of a progressive nation. The way to bring the farmer to this status, is to put into effect satisfactory rural credits and similar measures."

Lubin's address and three others, will conclude this year's session of the congress. Labor Secretary Wilson will discuss "An Agricultural Immigration for the Southern States;" Senator Robert L. Owen, chairman of the banking and currency committee, will talk on agricultural finances and Dr. Clarence Poe of Raleigh will discuss "Organizing the Rural Community."

The congress is expected to urge the Congress of the United States to hasten rural credits legislation and changes in the immigration laws. One of the most important results of the conference was declared to be the organization of the House of Southern Governors, which will meet each year to discuss southern problems.

PECULIAR FACTS ABOUT WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—War Secretary Garrison tells a story to point practically every remark he makes. His jokes are never longwinded, always interesting and invariably apropos. He makes you wonder where he gets 'em all. 'Seems to have a new supply every day.

SHOOTING MISTLETOE

The hunter took deliberate aim and fired into the higher branches of a swamp elm. Only a bunch of foliage cut from its supporting bough by the charge of bird shot, fell a yard or so away.

"Missed him?" was the half queried comment of a "tenderfoot" who had strained his eyes in vain to see the object of the shot.

"Missed nothing," came the rejoinder. "Shootin' greens," he added by way of explanation. He picked up the clump of leaves flecked with waxen berries and threw into a gunny sack three or four pounds of mistletoe, the reward of his marksmanship.

The open season for mistletoe begins early in December, according to the Kansas City Star, and continues until a day or so before Christmas, or in the lean years, until the crop is exhausted. The mistletoe on the Kansas City market comes from Oklahoma, where in many localities the shipping of Christmas greens is recognized as a winter industry. The old method of "shooting" mistletoe has been in large part displaced, however, by agile boys who earn men's wages by climbing for the crop and carrying it to the ground in sacks slung from their shoulders. That preserves the foliage beauty by leaving the berries intact. When the boughs are "harvested" by the shotgun method the charge jars many of the globules from their tiny stems, and the fall to earth but adds to the havoc.

Many Troubles Due
To Weak Kidneys

"It is no use advertising a medicine unless the medicine itself is good enough to back up the claims you make for it," said Johnson's Drug Store the popular druggist, to a Daily Republican man. "On the other hand it is a pleasure to sell a medicine when our customers come in afterward and tell us how much good it has done them. And that is why we have so much faith in this article that we are going to guarantee it in the future and will return the money to any purchaser of Solvax whom it does not help."

This shows great faith in Solvax.
It really is a most unusual medicine because it overcomes the worst cases of kidney complaint by removing the cause. It goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It soaks right in and cleans out the kidneys and makes them pass off all the uric acid and poisonous waste matter that lodges in the joints and muscles causing rheumatic pains; soothes and heals the bladder and quickly ends all such troubles.

A RUSHVILLE INTERVIEW

Mr. Priest Tells His Experience.

The following brief account of an interview with a Rushville man over five years ago, and its sequel will be read with keen interest by every citizen.

Geo. Priest, 223 W. 3d street, Rushville, says: "I have been afflicted more or less with kidney trouble for several years. It came on me gradually and each day, I could notice that it was becoming worse. It started with a dull pain directly over my kidneys, dizzy spells followed and there seemed to be specks before my eyes. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended for such ailments and I got a box at Johnson's Drug Store. They proved to be the best medicine of the kind I had ever used. In a short time they freed me from that distressing pain in my back and restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

The above statement was given on March 9, 1910, and on Aug. 26, 1915,
Mr. Priest said: "Whenever my kidneys bother me, I use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always give good results. My former endorsement still holds good."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Priest has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co.,

CO-OPERATION OF BREWERS NO GOOD

Secretary of Chicago United Charities Says Illegally Operated Saloons Can't be Eradicated.

FEW BREWERS OWN SALOONS

(By United Press.) Chicago, Dec. 17.—Although he admitted the existence of illegally operated saloons, A. J. Cermak, secretary of the United Societies, today told the United Press why it is impossible to eradicate them through brewery co-operation.

Cermak conceded the inability of municipal governments to stamp out saloons with red light tendencies. He admitted it might be possible to stamp out such saloons, by breweries refusing to sell them. No such move has been started, however, because of complications involved.

"In Chicago there are 52 breweries," said Cermak. "Of those ten are owned by the saloon keepers. Of the remaining 43 there are many who knowingly sell to illegitimate places. Even if all the city breweries refused to sell such places, others would. Competition is too keen."

Cermak denied that many saloon licenses are owned by breweries. He said that where this condition existed, for the protection of the brewers, or where brewers owned buildings or fixtures that would give them a leverage over saloon keepers, he did not believe, the law being broken.

Publicly, he admitted might "smoke out" the illegal saloon keeper. Wide advertisement of the co-operation of the liquor interest in a movement to stamp out the illegal saloon might help, he said.

PEOPLE ARE DIVIDED INTO TWO CLASSES

First Include Those Who Wonder How Much They Will Get, Second How Much They Must Give.

MANY LIKE THAT "SPUG" IDEA

People of Rushville just at this time of the year may be divided into two classes—those who are blessing Christmas and those who are blessing Christmas and those who are cursing the traditional date of the Messiah's birth.

In the first class come the poor, who profit by charity, the employees whose bosses or fellow employees liberal with Christmas donations, and the children of almost every fireside. In the latter class are those whom foolish custom forces to give up a month's savings in graft of the Christmas variety—the employees who must make a present to their employer, the employees who must "cough up" for employees of lesser grade, and the tens of thousands of persons just making a living according to their standards, who must appease the washerwoman, the hall boy, the elevator boy, the janitor, and a host of other expectant ones.

Many painful family situations arise where rich relatives "generously" lavish gifts on poorer relatives who then most painfully feel the ignominy of their poverty unless they are possessed of unusual fortitude and good sense.

Some institutions have the peculiar custom of giving big Christmas presents to their employees that the concerns become to a certain extent mutual enterprises.

rapher, too, will regain her good complexion earlier in the spring—The telephone girl and the stenographer will not have such a mountain of five pound boxes of candy as usual

Many persons are so heartily in sympathy with the spug movement that they can scarcely speak of it without leaping on the table and delivering an oration.

The most widespread disease in the world

The most widespread disease in the world today is that dread affection of the teeth called pyorrhea. Nine out of every ten grown persons have it to some extent. You may have it and be unaware of it. Why? Because scientists have proved that the cause of this disease is a germ which inhabits every human mouth, and that thousands have this disease and do not realize it until it reaches the advanced stages of bleeding gums and loose teeth.

Accept the advice dentists everywhere are giving and take special precautions in your daily toilet against this disease. To meet the need for such a daily treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste. Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Get Senreco at your druggists today, or send 4c in stamps or coin for sample tube and folder. Address The Sentanel Remedies Co., 507 Union Central Bldg., Cincinnati, Ohio.

POULTRYMEN MEET AT SHORT COURSE

For First Time in History Regular Session of Indiana Raisers Will be at Lafayette.

PROGRAM IS ARRANGED

For the first time in history a regular meeting of Indiana Poultrymen has been called to meet with the Purdue Farmers' Short Course at LaFayette, Indiana, January 11th. This time was chosen for the winter meeting because it was believed that the farmers and fancy poultrymen of Indiana would appreciate a meeting away from a poultry show and in connection with as large an educational affair as the Short Course.

Practically every other agricultural organization meets at Purdue during the week of January 10th-15th for there will be over 2,000 farmers in attendance. A regular five day poultry course is given at this time and much good information will be available for poultrymen.

The program for the State Poultry Association meeting is as follows:

1 p. m. Pres. Address: A. E. Martz, Arcadia, Ind. "Poultry for the Farmer" Ed S. Hobart, Williamsport, Ind. "Poultry for the Fancier" Frank E. Hering, South Bend, Ind., Demonstration, Washing and Preparing Birds for Show, J. F. Strasburger, Greensburg, Ind. Business meeting.

All poultry enthusiasts are invited to attend the meeting. For any further particulars address, A. G. Phillips, secretary, LaFayette, Indiana.

The Rise of Newfoundland.

Newfoundland has had a curious history. Cabot, sailing from Bristol, discovered it in 1497, and in 1583 Sir Humphrey Gilbert annexed its wild and rocky shores for Queen Elizabeth. Yet until 130 years ago it was illegal to build a permanent house there. The island was held by "merchant adventurers" for the sake of the fisheries. They hired their fishermen in England, took them across the Atlantic each spring and brought them back at the commencement of winter.

Newfoundland's importance in the cod fishery arises to a great extent from the fact that it is only within her waters that the small fish desirable as bait can be obtained in the necessary quantities.—London Telegraph.

A Curious Royal Custom.

When any Spanish sovereign dies the body is at once submitted to the process of fossilization, nor can it be placed in the royal pantheon until the body has been absolutely turned into stone. Curiously enough, the period required for fossilization varies considerably. Some royal bodies have become solidified in a very short period, while others have taken years before the fossilization took place.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

BY MARGARET MASON

Now that the wintry North wind blows,
One needs do likewise with the nose;

So bear in mind this thrifty line;
A handkerchief in time saves nine.
New York, Dec. 17.—It is indeed an ill wind that blows no good, for it's the rawest, nastiest of winds which necessitates the handy hanky; but who wouldn't have a cold in the head just in order to have one of the stunning new handkerchiefs in the hand.

Time was when the exclusively monogrammed handkerchief and the ones embroidered with the whole signature of the possessor were not for every common nose to be stuck into. Just the patrician proboscis revealed in such exclusively marked fine linen; and the signature hanky was held solely to the quivering nostrils of the rich and high born.

This merry Xmas season has revolutionized all this, however. A hanky hand embroidered, with a facsimile of the owner's own dashing signature is now within the reach of all and every nose. For fifty cents you may have your full name done in any color on a good quality linen handkerchief.

Naturally, the thicker you care to go as to price, the thinner the quality of linen in your hanky will be.

So there you are! And with the hoi polloi blowing over their own hand embroidered signatures, whatever are the elect going to do for an exclusive novelty in the menchoir line. Perhaps they'll work a bit further and have their birth certificates marriage licenses or pedigrees worked out in original design.

Like fairy gossamer are the tiny, handspun linen glove handkerchiefs with wee hand hemstitched or scalloped edges, some with intricate monograms and others with exquisitely embroidered garlands and wreaths.

Wide hems, narrow hems, scallops, lace edging and edges bound in colors are but a few of the manifold manners of finishing these dainty linen squares. To disguise a necessity as a luxury has been achieved with the acme of success in these handkerchiefs of these winter days.

The color note in gayest futuristic or dainty pastel tones enters often either in the hems, the embroidery, or even occasionally colors the entire handkerchief itself.

For infant noses and the undeveloped button noses of puerility, adorable little silk and linen squares bloom with the omnipresent Kewpie in alluring colorings and quaint little cross-stitch people doing everything from hanging out clothes to shooting Indians.

Truly, they would make most any small nose gay.

Message Of Joy To Catarrh Suffers

Hyomei Guaranteed by Johnson's Drug Store to Relieve or Money Refunded.

The popularity and increase in sales of Hyomei here in Rushville are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing successes have been made by this remarkable remedy that the proprietors have authorized Johnson's Drug Store to sell every package of Hyomei under an absolute guarantee that it will knock out catarrh for good. If it does not, the purchaser can have his money refunded by Johnson's Drug Store.

Hyomei is no ordinary remedy. It is pronounced the only method of treatment that sends by direct inhalation to the most remote part of the air passages, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and gives permanent and complete relief from catarrh.

The complete outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. This inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle can be obtained for a trifling sum. It is more economical than any remedy advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only treatment known to us that follows nature in her methods of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

SHOWS LEVELING EFFECT OF WAR

Duke of Rutland and Ben Tillett, Strike Leader, Address London Audience on Conflict.

COMPLIMENTS ARE PASSED

Tory Praises People of Tillett's Class and Latter Hands it Back to Aristocracy.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
London, Nov. 19. (By Mail)—Imagine John D. Rockefeller introducing Bill Haywood to an audience recruited about equally from the realms of the limousine and the push cart.

That's about like the spectacle at which London was amazed the other afternoon when the Duke of Rutland led Ben Tillett to the stage of His Majesty's Theatre before a thoroughly mixed crowd of "supper" and "lower" class Britishers and launched Ben's lecture on the war.

Rutland—tall, monocled, frock-coated, spatted, with Campaign accent and Mayfair manner, Tillett short, stumpy, sack-coated, baggy-trousered, with an East End jaw and Cockney accent.

The Duke—tory of tories, his family tree rooted in the middle ages, a topnotcher of the British landed gentry, and with certain Americans doubtless would term a "malefactor of great wealth."

The Docker—man of the people, day-laborer, England's most belligerent strike-leader and, in his own words, an "international social revolutionist"—before the war.

It was a graphic illustration of the leveling effect of war in this country of classes.

Duke and Docker were on the same mission—to impress the British public with its responsibility toward the men at the front.

The aristocratic Rutland praised the patriotism of the hundreds of thousands of Ben Tillett's type who answered the King's call; and Tillett handed it right back to the aristocracy.

With a forcefulness and rugged eloquence that brought as much applause from fashionably clad women in the stalls as from his own friends in pit and gallery, Tillett told how he had seen "toffs" and truckmen on the Flanders battlefield fighting, playing, eating, sleeping, dying side by side. "Whether they came from Eton or Oxford, or from Bethnal Green," he said, "when they faced the hellish German fire they were as one man."

He had met a young officer, a "knot" of the ultra-Piccadilly club variety, whose conversation was as inane as his countenance—"but," said Ben, "he had grit, and the men recognized it and loved him; and there was not one of them but would have laid down his life for him any time."

His message was that despite the deadly determination and cheerful optimism of the men at the front England couldn't hope to defeat Germany until the folks at home saw to it that they were provided with a preponderating supply of munitions.

"For shells we must give 'em more shells," he shouted, "for gas more gas—and for hell. More hell!" "Heah! Heah!" cried the stalls; "ear; 'ear!" bawled the gallery.

Not Much.

"Is it true, mamma," asked Ethel, "that the ostrich hides its head in the sand?"

"Yes, dear; they say that is the case."

"Well, mamma, when you wear an ostrich feather you never hide your head, do you?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Early Ballooning.

As early as 1786 the French government granted a sum of money to establish a balloon service between Paris and Marseilles with what were known as the Montgolfier air balloons, though the project never became more than a project.

Oranges.

Oranges are a most valuable fruit. Orange juice allays thirst and with few exceptions is well borne by the weakest stomach. It is also a laxative, and if taken at night or before breakfast it will be found most beneficial.

Saluting the Quarter Decks.

In response to an inquiry as to why officers and men of the navy "salute the deck" and civilians remove their hats when going aboard a naval vessel it may be said that, though commonly called a "salute to the deck," the salute in question is really a salute to the flag. For instance, at night on reaching the quarter deck or upon leaving it no salute is required, as the flag is, of course, not flying. The fact that this salute is rendered upon reaching the quarter deck from below or when coming on board and upon leaving the quarter deck, as when leaving the ship, is probably responsible for its having been known as a salute to the deck; but, as has been stated, it is really a salute to the flag. Men should when rendering it stop, stand erect and face the flag.—Philadelphia Press.

Stevenson's Cheerfulness.

"I shall never forget Mr. Stevenson," said a captain who commanded a ship on which Robert Louis Stevenson sailed. "The ship had broken her shaft and was delayed. He cheered everybody up by telling funny stories that were better coming offhand from his lips than most literary men could write if they worked over them for weeks. He knew, too, that it was only a question of a short time before he would die of consumption and that he could never again go home for more than a brief visit. It was simply wonderful what a difference that one man made among the passengers, and I guess almost all of us would gladly spend the time to make port under sail, with machinery disabled, if we could have a Stevenson aboard."

Spurgeon was Noncommittal.

The Rev. W. Williams, in his "Personal Reminiscences of C. H. Spurgeon," tells an anecdote concerning the great preacher as a smoker. Some gentleman wrote to Mr. Spurgeon, saying: "He had heard he smoked and could not believe it was true. Would Mr. Spurgeon write and tell if it really was so?" The reply was sent as follows: "Dear —, I cultivate my flowers and burn my weeds. Yours truly, C. H. Spurgeon."

Making It Clear.

"Now, my good man, before we start out in your machine let us understand each other perfectly." "Well, what is it?" "I am not desirous of seeing how fast you can drive this car; it is the scenery I wish to see."

ARREST OF YOUNG FORGER IS NEAR

Cletis Miller, Who Passed Number of Worthless Checks Here, is Traced to Connersville.

AT JOHN GRAY'S HOME, ALSO

Develops Since Yesterday That Other Business Men Cashed
Checks—All of Them Crude.

The arrest of Cletis Miller, the Youthful check forger who operated successfully here and at Connersville using the name of his employer
John A. Gray was expected today.
Prosecutor Stevens received direct word last evening that Miller was in Connersville and a warrant for his arrest was sent there.

The authorities fully believed that Miller would be arrested before night and they expected the sheriff of Payette county to find him in Con-nersville. Miller did not take advantage of the opportunity to get out of the state on the money he obtained by issuing the bad checks. This is shown by the fact that he was in Connersville yesterday and even ventured so far as to come to the home of Gray, east of the city.

The checks issued by Miller were very crude. The writing was very poor and a close inspection of the checks would show that they were forged. One of the checks given by Miller had only the figure six to tell what the amount was, and the check was not properly filled. It was for this reason that the checks were turned down by some of the merchants.

Since it became public property
Thursday that Cletis Miller obtained $24 on four forged checks here and $10 on one at Connersville, it has developed that others were victims of the youthful amateur and it is anticipated that even others may have given good cash for his worthless paper.

It was just learned Thursday evening that Abercrombie's jewelry store cashed a check for $6 presented by Miller, on John Gray, and that when Miller tried to get money on a similar check in Kelley's grocery store, he was refused. He endeavored to cash a check for $6 at Bliss & Cowing's and made two efforts to get the same amount at Casady's dry goods store. At the latter place he appeared nervous, it is stated.

Six dollars was Miller's favorite sum. All checks cashed here were

D. A. R. WILL BUY BRONZE TABLET

Proceeds From Sale of Sketch of Rush County Will be Used to Purchase a Memorial.

MAY BE PUT IN COURT HOUSE

The chairman of the history committee of the Rushville chapter of the D. A. R. reported at the regular meeting Thursday afternoon that about three hundred copies of the sketches of Rush county, written by Mrs. Mary M. Alexander, are now on sale. The proceeds from the sale will be used to buy a bronze tablet with the names on it of all of the soldiers of the Revolution buried in Rush county. The tablet will be placed either in the court house or on a boulder on the court house lawn. The chapter hopes to be ready to unveil the tablet the morning of the day Rush county celebrates the centennial. The members of the chapter asks the co-operation of the people of the county in selling the books.

It was decided that the Christmas work of the chapter would be done this year by a committee visiting the county poor asylum. Gifts will be taken to the old people who are inmates and a song and prayer service will be held. The meeting was at the home of Miss Alice Norris and was attended by sixteen members.

Thomas McManus has filed a petition in the circuit court for the appointment of a guardian for his son, Carl McManus. Carl McManus

Deputy Auditor Bales Distributes
Balance Remaining in Road
Funds After Construction.

ALL COUNTY LINE HIGHWAYS

Money Remaining Will be Placed in The Fund For the Redemption of Gravel Road Bonds.

Deputy Auditor Bales has distributed the balances remaining in the road funds after the construction of several county line roads. Rush county has built roads in connection with Fayette, Franklin, Hancock and Shelby counties and the money remaining from the various funds will be sent to these counties to be placed in the fund for the redemption of gravel road bonds.

On the Charles Elwell, et al., road there is a balance of $401.70. Of this amount Washington township will receive $201.47 and Fairview township, Fayette county will get $66.75 and Posey township of Fayette county will receive $133.48.

There remains a total of $369.72 from the construction of the George Looney road. Union township will receive $63.83 and Noble township gets $122.49. From this road Orange township, Fayette county will receive $183.40.

The third road involving Fayette and Rush counties is the J. A. De-Armond road. There is a balance in this road fund of $231.85. Franklin county is also involved, as a section of the road is in Posey township, Franklin county. The balance is divided as follows: Rush county—Richland township, $32.67; Noble township, $83.25. Fayette county—Orange township, $82.67. Franklin county—Posey township, $33.26.

The other road on which a distribution will be made is the Murray Moore road, which was built by Hancock, Shelby and Rush counties. A balance of $430.59 results from the sale of bonds after the payment for the construction was made. The fund is divided as follows: Rush county—Ripley township, $125.32; Posey township, $89.97. Shelby county—Hancock township, $91.27.
Hancock county—Blue River township, $124.03.

WANTS $500 FOR DAMAGES TO AUTO

Otto F. Bussard Brings Suit Against John E. Kirkpatrick as Outgrowth of Accident.

NEGLIGENCE IS THE CHARGE

Otto F. Bussard, through his attorneys Kiplinger and Smith, filed suit for damages today against John E. Kirkpatrick, demanding $500.
The suit is the outgrowth of an automobile accident occurring on the Ogden road September 30. The complaint alleges that Bussard was driving south on this road towards Rushville and that Kirkpatrick was driving an automobile north on the road approaching Bussard.

It is alleged that Kirkpatrick drove at a high rate of speed and in a careless and negligent manner, and in passing the Bussard machine failed to turn to the right out of the beaten path of travel. Bussard alleged that the machine was damaged to the extent of $500.

GOOD FELLOWS ARE ON LAST LAP

Only One Week to Christmas and There Are 154 Children to be Cared For in That Time.

NEW NAMES ARE ADDED TODAY

League's Members Will Have to do
Lot of Hustling in Seven Days to Disappoint None.

The Good Fellows League was in the same condition today that it was yesterday—a lot of new names were added to the list and none was taken off. At any rate, the Good Fellows know now what is expected of them. There are not likely to be any more names put on the list because the city has been covered.
The total yet to be cared for is one hundred and fifty-four. That is a large number with Christmas only one week away. But the Good Fellows have never made a failure on the proposition. They have never been found wanting when there are children who may go without Christmas unless the Good Fellows help.

The wards of the League are going to have to be taken off the list at a merry clip in order to get all of them into the hands of some Good Fellows before Christmas.

Undoubtedly there are plenty of Good Fellows left who want to help.
All they need is to realize the importance of their assistance. So, that being the case, let's get down to cases, so the Good Fellows may know some conditions that actually exist here.

One investigator told of a family living in a house in the western part of the city that had no window panes in the windows. Their home consists of two small rooms and a lean-to kitchen. Some of the holes in the windows are stuffed with rags and others are wide open. There are four children in the family.

Listen to some of these notations
after statistice about families:

"Works only part of time—drinks." That's the sad story of one home with three little folks ranging in age from six years to four months.
It would be hard to discount their prospects for Christmas, but for the Good Fellows.

"Father is a carpenter, but has no steady work. Is out of work now."
There are three children in that family.

"Father has steady work at—Mother is afflicted—just had an operation—can't see well. They can not make expenses."

"Father has steady work, but they do not get along financially. Father works at—, but can not well provide for eight on his wages."

gum and a good line of candies.

P. J. Lynch, who was to have met the Republican committeemen of this county tomorrow has been detained in West Grove, Pennsylvania and has sent word that he will be here at

Gertrude Conner to foreclose a lien, demanding $64.05. The lien was li-ken on an automobile owned by Conner in payment for a repair bill.

TENTATIVE PRIZE LIST FOR CORN SHOW

bers to Offer Merchandise.

$35 IN CASH ALONE OFFERED

The committee on prizes for the corn show which will be held here on Saturday, January 23, before the farmers short course opens on Monday, January 24, announced today that at a meeting Thursday evening it was decided to offer the following prizes:

For the best ten ears of white corn, $15 in cash; second prize, $7
in merchandise; third prize, $4 in merchandise.

For the best ten ears of yellow
corn, $15 in cash; second prize, $7
in merchandise; third prize, $4 in merchandise.

For the best ear of white corn,
$2.50 in cash.

For the best ear of yellow corn,
$2.50 in cash.

The committee, which is composed of Wilbur Stiers, L. M. Sexton and Ralph Payne, asks that merchants who want to offer merchandise as prizes, are asked to see one member of the committee at once so that the prize list may be completed. If more merchandise than the tentative list calls for is offered, it will be divided proportionately and will make the show much more attractive.

DIPLOMATIC BREAK IS NOT EXPECTED

Berlin Believes Controversy Over Ancona Will be Settled Just as Lusitania Case Was.

AUSTRIA UPHOLDS DIGNITY

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Dec. 17.—Berlin does not expect any diplomatic break between Austria and the United States as a result of Austria's failure to comply with American demands.

Austria is willing to make important concessions to prevent such a break. Another exchange of notes probably will clear the whole situation.

"Austria, having maintained her position in a dignified manner in her reply, can now gracefully yield to America in a subsequent note," said a high official.

"To have yielded at once would have raised a storm of protest in Vienna. There is every reason to believe that the Austrian-American controversy will be solved just as the trouble over the Lusitania was settled."

CABINET READS AUSTRIA'S REPLY

United States Program is Agreed Upon and Secretary Lansing
Will Prepare Rejoinder.

WILL TAKE IT TO WILSON

President Will Leave on Honeymoon
Saturday Night and Can't Assist in Preparation.

(By United Press.)

Washington, Dec. 17.—President
Wilson and the cabinet today read Austria's unsatisfactory reply to the American note on the sinking of the Ancona and determined this government's course. Tomorrow evening the president will depart on his wedding trip, leaving Secretary Lansing to carry out the policies agreed upon.

The secretary will draft a definite, final rejoinder that is expected to mean one of three things.

The severance of diplomatic relations or complete backdown by Austria or the presentation of evidence by Austria that entirely refutes the statements of her admiralty on which statement the first vigorous American note was based.

This note, the secretary will take to President Wilson. With the latter's approval he will return to Washington and dispatch it to the foreign office in Vienna. It will leave no loop-hole, it is declared, for the prolonged negotiations for which Austria's note received today is considered to be bidding.

The new note, it is confidently believed, will in effect be an ultimatum.
There is just one step of preventing severance of diplomatic relations.
That is that Austria can furnish Washington with facts that can not be questioned by anyone, admitting at the same time that the version of the Ancona attack presented by the Austrian admiralty was wrong and even this chance will be worthless unless Austria can present the facts promptly.

Austria's reply to the Ancona note has been in the hands of the state department all day. It was received shortly after midnight. Work of de-coding the message began at once and it will be placed before Secretary Lansing.

The note is about one thousand words long. It took about thirty hours for its coding and transmission. It was handed to Ambassador Penfield at noon Wednesday.

It will be made public only after Secretary Lansing and President have studied it. Every effort was made to get the answer decided to lay it before the cabinet at its meeting today.

Tom Horr is ill at his home in

Miss Rosaline Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rich Reed, is suffer-

Fashion

Some one had described fashion as "the art of making the many wear what is becoming only to the few."

There is wit if not wisdom in the definition.

Nevertheless, few men or women have the courage to utterly disregard the "mode."

They want to be in sartorial tune with public opinion.

They take it as a mark of knowing "what's what."

And for this reason most people like to glance through the advertising in a live newspaper like The Daily Republican to see news of fashion.

MAKES HEAVY SACRIFICE TO BRING RUSHVILLE HER CHRISTMAS TREE

"Uncle" Jeff, Davis Drives 24 Miles
on Day of Many Changing Moods to Arrive on Time

EVERGREEN IS 35 FEET HIGH

For the beautiful Christmas tree that will soon adorn the court house lawn, the weather permitting, the people of Rushville and Rush county will be indebted to "Uncle" Jeff Davis, of near Clarksburg, who Thursday braved the elements of a terrible winter day of many changing moods to bring the evergreen to this city.

"Uncle" Jeff pulled in Thursday night about seven o'clock with the mammoth tree on a big wagon. He drove twenty-four miles, from a point down in Decatur county, through the rain and sleet, and over slippery roads, that the people of Rushville might not be disappointed about their Christmas tree.

"Uncle" Jeff saw that make-shift that was erected last holidays and he promised friends here at that time that he would bring a Christmas tree here this Christmas that "was" a Christmas tree. He did not need to be reminded of his promise. He is a man who never forgets them.

Mr. Davis said last Christmas that he had a tree "spotted" down in Decatur county that would "just fill the bill," and sure enough it will.
The tree is thirty-five and one-half feet high and is eighteen inches in diameter at the base. That is what for that amount. But Miller digressed a little at Connersville and got $10. Mr. Gray, it is stated, has corresponded with the boy's parents in South Carolina.

It was learned today that Miller appeared at the home of John Gray Thursday afternoon and it is reported that he admitted that he had secured money on the worthless paper. It is said that Miller had no idea that he had violated any law, but his sole object in calling on his employer was to straighten out matters with Gray, because he thought Gray would have to make good all of these bad checks which he had passed.

He went from Gray's to Connersville Thursday evening, it was reported, and for that reason a bench warrant was issued from the circuit court here and sent to Connersville in an effort to catch the youthful forger.

NEW AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO NAMED

Washington, Dec. 17.—Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania was appointed ambassador to Mexico today.

Fletcher was appointed ambassador to Chile in 1914. His salary as ambassador to Mexico will be the same, $17,500. The matter of his successor at Santiago has not been taken up.

Fletcher is a Republican. He was chosen because of his insight into South and Central American politics. It is believed the president will consider a man from Indiana as Fletcher's successor in Chile, since it has long been the custom to appoint the ambassador to Mexico from that state.

There will be a fine Belgian filly colt, 15 months old sold at the combination sale tomorrow. 2391

One of the delightful Christmas parties of the week was the annual luncheon of the Mu Phi Epsilon musical sorority at the home of Miss Mable Rose. The rooms were elaborately decorated with Christmas greenery, holly and mistletoe being effectively used. Red bells were suspended from garlands of green. In the dining room, the lights were from red candles in crystal holders and the table held a Christmas tree laden with gifts for all the members. The ices were in the sorority colors, lavender and white. Special guests were Miss Louise Mason of Columbus, Ind., Miss Jessie Kitchen of Rushville, Ind., and Mrs. Harriet Baum Ascher of Chicago, all members of the sorority. Real Christmas Spirit

In planning a merry Christmas for your friends, do not let it mean a miserable Christmas to those less fortunate to you and yours. Thousands of workers in every city have been taught the terrible experience to look forward to Christmas with a bitter dread. Every girl working in retail stores knows that the coming of the holiday season will mean to her an immense amount of extra work, of nervous strain and exhaustion. The great army of workers look ahead to Christmas as a time of hardship.

Is that your conception of the day?

A little unselfishness on your part will serve to lighten greatly the burden of these people. Merely do your Christmas shopping early—early in the week and early in the day.

By so doing you will not only relieve the clerks and errand boys of the necessity of serving you at the last moment, but escape the annoyance of finding that the very gifts you most desired are already sold.

Carry these messages to your friends and urge them to help lift the burden from the overworked folks who wait on you.

Inspect the advertisements of the live merchants in the Daily Republican. They will tell you of a wide variety of Christmas gifts. You do not have to leave Rushville to find what you want.

Afraid of Themselves

In the last congress the Democratic majority in the House was 135. The ratio of Democrats and Republicans was as slightly more than two to one. The committees of the House contain twenty-one members and the Democrats were justified in arranging the number to comprise fourteen Democrats to seven Republicans.

In this Congress, the Democratic majority is only twenty-five. The ratio of Democrats to Republicans is but slightly more than one to one; and the committees containing twenty-one members should comprise eleven Democrats and ten Republicans—or, at the utmost, twelve Democrats and nine Republicans.

Yet the Democrats intend to make no such arrangement. They purpose to maintain their numerical ascendancy on the committees. Publicly they give no reason for this except that they have the power to do so and that they intend to exercise that power. However, it is well known that the Democratic leaders are afraid to diminish their party representation on the committees of the House.

The Democratic party is honey-combed with sedition. One or two Bryan men on a committee, made up in just proportions, could at any time throw the control of the committee into Republican hands. The House is full of prospective rebels and the leaders intend to take no chances.

In effect, the Democratic party is afraid of itself. It cannot trust to the loyalty of its own members. Yet that party, in such a condition, is entering upon a session of Congress in which larger and more momentous issues are at stake than for a generation of past legislation. That party, in such a condition, expects to control the decision of those issues.

Attorney General Gregory has rendered an opinion that the organization of the Federal Reserve Bank districts is not reviewable. The law says it is not reviewable "except by the reserve board." Which is to govern? The law of Mr. Gregory's opinion?

Andrew Carnegie has reduced his fortune to about $20,000,000. He had about twenty-five times that sum to start with. Query: If Carnegie used McAdoo's system of bookkeeping how large would his fortune appear to be?

It is said that the Federal Trade Commission will have no legislative recommendations for Congress at this session. But it will put up a loud demand for an increased appropriation just the same.

Secretary Tumulty, though an Irishman, returns a Scotch verdict of "not proven" in response to the charges that Carranza's men have abused the women of religious orders in Mexico.

What a glorious thing it would be if 1916 could find Rushville without a knocker, and with everyone a booster. And it could, if you would.

Germany reports a serious decline in the birth rate. Among the other sins this war has to answer for is taking the pop out of population.

Congressman Chandler of New York and Congressman Copley of Illinois, Progressives, announce their adherence hence forward to the regular Republican party. Next!

The session of Congress began normally. Champ Clark was elected speaker and Aaron P. Prioleau contested somebody's seat.

No wonder T. R. and "Billy" Sunday denounce the Ford trip so bitterly, as it has crowded them off the front page.

We can stand almost any kind of man. But the fellow who gives you a hand like a limp fish to shake isn't one of them.

Another pathetic little feature of every day life is the way a woman always wants $1.25 for something right away.

A 35-year old dame can drop five years from her age and fool most of the men. But she can't fool the other women.

The Crew of the Chinese cruiser Chang-Ho has mutinied. We aren't the only nation having trouble with its hyphenates.

We see by the papers that another munitions plant has just booked a $1,000,000,000 order of mysterious explosions.

A Cincinnati woman says that thousands have died from kissing. Oh Death where is thy sting.

It will be news to a lot of people that LaFollette left any American ships for the British to seize.

We can make it a prosperous year if we get together and pull together. Let's get and let's pull.

Wonder what the new year will have in store for Rushville?

Yes, congress is on the job again. Poor old job!

And may they be even more than merry!

Many more Merry Christmases, too!

Current Comments

Not Blinded.

Not even the excitement of a near-world war, nor the necessity which the American people feel for holding up their executive's hands in his dealings with foreign powers, can blind them to the weaknesses of a domestic party policy that has reduced the country to the most depressed financial and industrial condition that has been experienced in America in a quarter of a century. The Democratic internal policy of a low tariff, coupled with unparalleled extravagance in federal expenditures, has not only brought about a most unusual deficit in national finances that is steadily becoming more serious, but has also hammered down investment values to the extent of billions of dollars, brought countless reputable and well-managed industrial concerns to the verge of ruin, and has made idlers of hundreds of thousands of industrious workmen.

With these facts staring them in the face, day after day, it is to be wondered that the American people anxiously await the hour when the opportunity shall come for the restoration to power of a national administration based on the tried and proved principle that maintained steadily increasing prosperity for a long period of years? Can it be considered strange that capitalists and workmen everywhere are joining hands in a political movement for the restoration of our old-time industrial prestige? And is there not abundant reason for the pronounced sentiment among Republicans of every faction in favor of putting aside petty family disputes and presenting a solid front to the enemy next year?

The evergreen is perfectly formed, "Uncle" Jeff. says, and is of the red cedar variety, the kind that is always a beautiful hue of green. "Uncle" Jeff. went into the thing thoroughly when he was expounding on the value of this particular tree.

"You see," he said, "there are evergreens, and there are evergreens. The red cedar is always a bright green, but the white cedar is a dull brown. You never want a white cedar for a Christmas tree."

"I've known that tree for forty-five years," declared the venerable old man from Clarksburg, growing reminiscent. "She is about as fine a type of cedar as I ever saw."

Even after Mr. Davis drove twenty-four miles Thursday through a hard rain in order to have the tree here on time, it was doubtful whether it could be erected this afternoon because of the incessant rain. The tree will be located on the court house lawn, the commissioners having granted the Chamber of Commerce committees that privilege. The city light plant will wire the tree free of charge and the city will furnish the current free of charges. A special committee will look after the decorations.

Mr. Davis also brought James E. Watson and John A. Fitzworth a small tree for their homes at the same time he brought the municipal tree.

Don't Let Him Carry Home His Own Christmas Present

We will do the delivery for you any morning before Christmas.

We are enthusiastic about our Ties because the universal opinion of all our customers who see them is that they are the most beautiful they have seen in any shop.

One-half Dollar will procure a dandy.

And while we are on the tie subject let me tell you that I pay extra for several little things which cost me money, but which adds so much to the tie, but no more to the cost to you. You will detect these little extras in the wearing.

Don't you know a Lounging Robe is a great luxury. It makes a luxurious present. When you go home at night take off your day clothes, don your night shirt and Lounge Robe, read and lounge around until you get sleepy, slip out of the Lounge Robe and in an instant you are ready for the down—if you're called up during the night the Robe is handy.

The Brighton Manufacturing Company just dumped a lot of Night Robes and Pajamas at my shop. They are beauties. If you retire in one of them you will probably hate to get out of bed as much as I do the next morning after dancing till 2 o'clock a. m. The prices range from $1.00 to $2.50, and when you see them you will consider the price low.

WAR TAX BILL PASSES THE HOUSE

Emergency Revenue Measure Goes
Through Thursday Night With
Vote 205 to 189.

WILL PROVIDE $80,000,000.00

Washington, Dec. 17.—The House last night by a vote of 205 to 189 passed the joint resolution extending the emergency revenue tax until Dec. 31, 1916. The Senate is expected to take like action on the measure in a day or two.

The law is expected by administration leaders to bring revenue into the treasury at the rate of $82,000,000 a year.

The Republicans, voting solidly against the resolution, were joined by the five Progressives and five Democrats: Calloway, Texas; Hillard and Keating, Colorado; Buchanan, Illinois, and Wingo, Arkansas. Several proposed amendments to shorten the period of extension were voted down.

Representative Kitchen of North Carolina, in his first speech as majority leader, told the House that unless the law was extended the treasury would face a deficit of more than $81,000,000 at the end of the next fiscal year.

Further than this brief announcement the senator had no comment to make. Mr. Dailey, at his request will be relieved of the office Jan. 1, but in all probability it will be a few days thereafter before Slack takes charge. Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

State Grange Calls For Repeal of Law Creating Road Heads—Against Motor Routes.

Columbus, Ind., Dec. 17.—The forty-fifth annual meeting of the State Grange closed here last night and visiting delegates declare the convention the best in the history of the organization. The attendance is said to have been much larger than ever before. The meeting closed with the installation of new officers and the passing of the annual word. Thursday's sessions were devoted almost wholly to debate and action on resolutions.

The grange adopted resolutions favoring the repeal of the law providing for county highway superintendents, disapproving the proposed fifty-mile automobile rural mail routes, and favoring woman suffrage, nation-wide prohibition and a rural credit law under the head of education. The grange adopted resolutions protesting against the garb of the modern high school girl and demanding one not so heartily like the evening gowns of society women. The election of county school superintendents by popular vote was demanded, and the consolidation of schools was approved. A resolution providing that no school pupil be required to ride in a transportation hack more than four miles and that not more than sixteen pupils be crowded into one hack was killed. Another resolution demands that cities which accept money for liquor licenses care for their own drunks instead of requiring them to be cared for at the expense of the county.

RETAXES COST IN THE WALKER SUIT

Special Judge Springer Finds Many Witnesses Had Applied For Fees and Were Not Present.

LARGE CLAIM IS ALLOWED

Special Judge Raymond Springer today sustained a motion to retax the costs in the suit of A. P. Walker against the Rushville Glove Company and A. B. Iryin. In retaxing the costs in this action Judge Springer ordered the names of thirty-one from the record. The costs in this case amounted to $129.25 and were assessed against Walker. A total of $51.30 is saved in retaxing the costs and now the total amounts to $77.95. It was brought out in the trial that many witnesses claimed fees that were not even present in the court room.

By an agreement of the parties in the suit of Orbie Short against Pearl Short to modify a divorce decree the court appointed Judge Alonzo Blair as special judge. A change of venue from Raymond Springer was asked, and then the appointment of Judge Blair was made.

Judgment for the Carthage Building Loan and Savings Association against John and Cora Tuttle in the sum of $183.26 was rendered by the court this morning. The divorce suit of Della Bennett against Horatio Bennett was dismissed by the plaintiff and the costs paid.

Mrs. Helen Pierson was given judgment for $3,481.21 on a claim against the estate of Mrs. Maria Smullen, deceased.

School For Indiana Farmers Will be Held at Purdue University January 10 to 15.

PRORAM IS ABOUT READY

State Corn Show Will be Held in Connection With Short Course,
200 Premiums Offered.

The Fourteenth Annual Farmers' Short Course will be held at Purdue University January 10-15, 1915. The program for this great event has been completed and will be ready for distribution in a short time. Due to the interest in almost every section of the state a large attendance is expected. Last year more than 384 boys and girls attended this course as a result of the contest and club work carried on in connection with the schools. County agents in the various counties will also be instrumental in bringing large numbers of representative people. The coming course will see a much larger number of boys and girls as well as a large number of women. At the present time there are more than one hundred Economics Classes organized in the state that are working in co-operation with the Extension Department. These organizations will send representatives to the Short Course. The Indiana Home Economics Association which has a large membership throughout the state will hold its annual meeting during this week and will be instrumental in bringing large numbers to Purdue.

To handle this large number of people in addition to the regular students of the University is a problem that the authorities have to solve. In some cases it will be necessary attention and assistance be given to the farmers and their families. The second week in January is recognized as the great agricultural, educational feast and brings the farmers back year after year for information and inspiration.

In connection with the Farmers' Short Course the State Corn Show will be held. Something more than two hundred premiums will be offered which insures a large and high class exhibit of corn, wheat and oats.

MEETS WITH SUCCESS.

Word has been received here from the Rev. J. H. O. Four Jumps to Salonika

In Heart of Stormy Balkans

By WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)
Salonica, Nov. 1. (By Mail)—
Here's the World War news center.
At last the stormy little Balkans have come into the world's eye.

Correspondents from all corners of what used to be civilization flock here to be near the great German push 400 miles north of us.

There are other lesser correspondents hanging around the hotels of Salonika, mostly queerly dressed chaps with queer habits and manners, newspaper men from European countries who have spent their lives in the Balkans trying to get the busy world interested in their little affairs; men who have lived in queer Balkan cities and have dashed madly to the Balkan telegraph offices in times past with news items which they themselves thought tremendously important but which were honored with tiny headlines in the newspapers of the world.

These Balkan-fan journalists knew that some day the Balkans would explode. The day has come. The explosion has occurred.

At last the feet of European armies are pounding the Balkan highways; European cannon, machine guns and rifles sound through the Balkan hills and European spades eat trenches in the Balkan soil.

In the Olympus Palace Hotel, or the water front, gathered around the tiny tables in the cafes, are the officers of the British, French Russian and Greek armies, a melange of color and language. And these Balkan journalists—English, French and Italian—chatter gaily, wisely of the great day which has come at last.

Salonica harbor is filled with great boats, warships, torpedo boats, hospital ships, and two or three boats which have huge American flags painted on their sides and which are making small fortunes for their owners in running the submarine gunnery with supplies for the Balkan allies.

That busy harbor of itself is enough to delight the soul of the Balkan journalist. But last evening, just at sundown, came the climax of his excitement. An aeroplane was soaring over the bay of Salonika. Behind it, across the harbor, loomed Mount Olympus, where the old Greek gods used to live and cut their capers.

Just to see an aeroplane with Olympus, which has been peaceful and quiet ever since the gods died, as a background, was enough to prove to the Balkan experts that the great day really had come at last.

To top it off, the engine of the aeroplane weakened in its stroke, the machine came nearer and nearer to the water. It had wheels instead of boats beneath its planes and when its momentum was gone and it came to the surface of the bay, it dug its nose fifteen or twenty feet into the water, pilot and all, and then stood on end with its tail in the air.

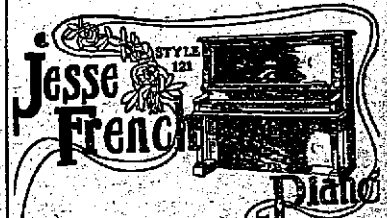

Here was a catastrophe of the World War, right at the foot of Olympus. The Balkan experts watched the aviators come to the surface, climb into the half sunken planes and wait for three tug boats in the harbor to rush to the rescue.

Then they went back to the Olympus Palace cafe where the French old timers in the Balkans ordered absinthe—which one cannot buy in Paris—and the others ordered whiskey and soda, over which they thrashed out the whole problem of the value of aeroplanes in Balkan warfare, happy at last to be able to say:

"The eyes of the world are not on the French front or on the Russian front. They are on the Balkans, as I have always said they would be; and here the World War will be threshed out."

Because Americans are learning to make suitable gifts at Christmas time—and learning that Tuxedo is the best gift of all for a man.

Tuxedo is the mildest, pleasantest pipe tobacco in the world—made absolutely non-biting and delightfully mellow by the original "Tuxedo Process" that has never been successfully imitated.

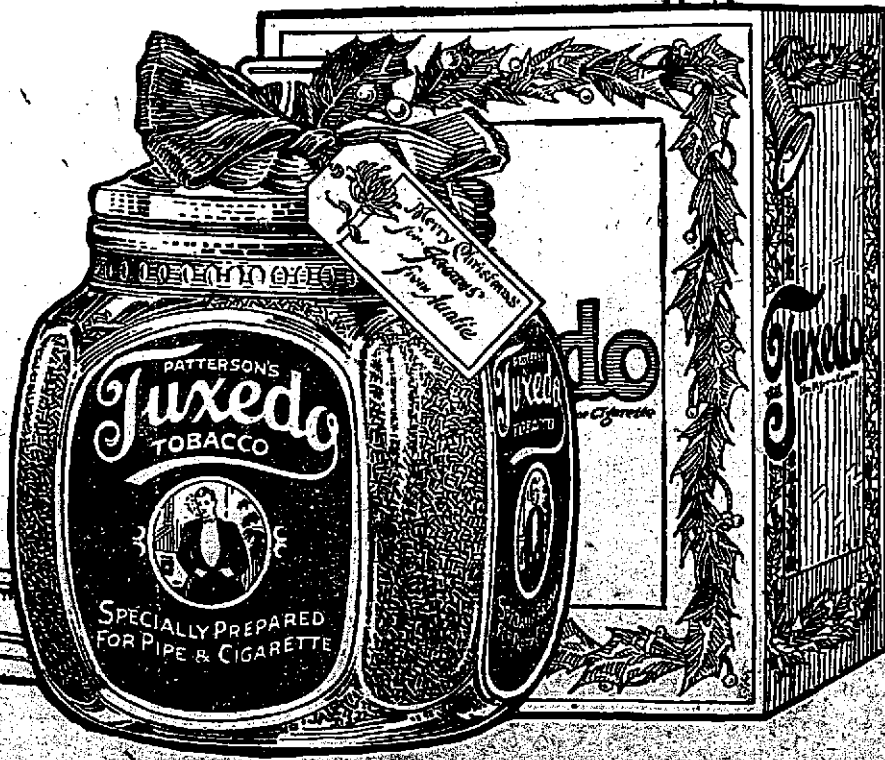

Last Christmas the demand for Tuxedo humidor jars was so great that the supply of many dealers was exhausted, and thousands of people were disappointed. The safe plan is to place your order with your dealer now. He will be glad to set your jar aside for you until Christmas.

CITES GERMANY AS AN EXAMPLE

Speaker at Southern Commercial
Congress Declares Country Needs
System of Rural Credits

MEETING CLOSES TONIGHT

Farmers Urged to Become Business
Men—Want Immigration
Laws Changed

(By United Press.)

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 17.—That the economic agricultural system in Germany has placed the German empire among the great powers of the world will be told the Southern Commercial congress tonight by David Lubin, United States delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture at Rome.

"If our nation is to persist and prosper, there must be a conservation of our farmers," Lubin said today. "The farmer must take his place, as a commercial peer alongside the business man of the city. This alone will bring about that economic equilibrium so essential to the life of a progressive nation. The way to bring the farmer to this status, is to put into effect satisfactory rural credits and similar measures."

Lubin's address and three others, will conclude this year's session of the congress. Labor Secretary Wilson will discuss "An Agricultural Immigration for the Southern States," Senator Robert L. Owen, chairman of the banking and currency committee, will talk on agricultural finances and Dr. Clarence Poe of Raleigh will discuss "Organizing the Rural Community."

The congress is expected to urge the Congress of the United States to hasten rural credits legislation and changes in the immigration laws. One of the most important results of the conference was declared to be the organization of the House of Southern Governors, which will meet each year to discuss southern problems.

Many Troubles Due To Weak Kidneys

"It is no use advertising a medicine unless the medicine itself is good enough to back up the claims you make for it," said Johnson's Drug Store the popular druggist, to a Daily Republican man. "On the other hand it is a pleasure to sell a medicine when our customers come in afterward and tell us how much good it has done them. And that is why we have so much faith in this article that we are going to guarantee it in the future and will return the money to any purchaser of Solvax whom it does not help."

This shows great faith in Solvax. It really is a most unusual medicine because it overcomes the worst cases of kidney complaint by removing the cause. It goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It soaks right in and cleans out the kidneys and makes them pass off all the uric acid and poisonous waste matter that lodges in the joints and muscles causing rheumatic pains; soothes and heals the bladder and quickly ends all such troubles.

CO-OPERATION OF BREWERS NO GOOD

Secretary of Chicago United Charities Says Illegally Operated Saloons Can't be Eradicated.

FEW BREWERS OWN SALOONS

(By United Press.) Chicago, Dec. 17.—Although he admitted the existence of illegally operated saloons, A. J. Cermak, secretary of the United Societies, today told the United Press why it is impossible to eradicate them through brewery co-operation.

Cermak conceded the inability of municipal governments to stamp out saloons with red light tendencies. He admitted it might be possible to stamp out such saloons, by breweries refusing to sell them. No such move has been started, however, because of complications involved.

"In Chicago there are 52 breweries," said Cermak. "Of those ten are owned by the saloon keepers. Of the remaining 42 there are many who knowingly sell to illegitimate places. Even if all the city breweries refused to sell such places, others would. Competition is too keen."

Cermak denied that many saloon licenses are owned by breweries. He said that where this condition existed, for the protection of the brewers, or where brewers owned buildings or fixtures that would give them a leverage over saloon keepers, he did not believe, the law being broken.

Publicity, he admitted might "smoke out" the illegal saloon keeper. Wide advertisement of the co-operation of the liquor interest in a movement to stamp out the illegal saloon might help, he said.

PEOPLE ARE DIVIDED INTO TWO CLASSES

First Include Those Who Wonder How Much They Will Get, Second How Much They Must Give.

MANY LIKE THAT "SPUG" IDEA

People of Rushville just at this time of the year may be divided into two classes—those who are blessing Christmas and those who are cursing the traditional date of the Messiah's birth.

In the first class come the poor, who profit by charity, the employees whose bosses or fellow employees liberal with Christmas donations, and the children of almost every fireside. In the latter class are those whom foolish custom forces to give up a month's savings in graft of the Christmas variety—the employees who must make a present to their employer, the employees who must "cough up" for employees of lesser grade, and the tens of thousands of persons just making a living according to their standards, who must appease the washerwoman, the hall boy, the elevator boy, the janitor, and a host of other expectant ones.

Many painful family situations arise where rich relatives "generously" lavish gifts on poorer relatives who then most painfully feel the ignominy of their poverty unless they are possessed of unusual fortitude and good sense.

Some institutions have the peculiar custom of giving big Christmas presents to their employees that the concerns become to a certain extent mutual enterprises.

rapher, too, will regain her good complexion earlier in the spring—The telephone girl and the stenographer will not have such a mountain of five pound boxes of candy as usual.

Many persons are so heartily in sympathy with the spug movement that they can scarcely speak of it without leaping on the table and delivering an oration.

NEW YORK FASHION NOTES

BY MARGARET MASON

Now that the wintry North wind blows, One needs do likewise with the nose;

So bear in mind this thrifty line; A handkerchief in time saves nine. New York, Dec. 17.—It is indeed an ill wind that blows no good, for it's the rawest, nastiest of winds which necessitates the handy hanky; but who wouldn't have a cold in the head just in order to have one of the stunning new handkerchiefs in the hand.

Time was when the exclusively monogrammed handkerchief and the ones embroidered with the whole signature of the possessor were not for every common nose to be stuck into. Just the patrician proboscis revealed in such exclusively marked fine lines; and the signature hanky was held solely to the quivering nostrils of the rich and high born.

This merry Xmas season has revolutionized all this, however. A hanky hand embroidered, with a facsimile of the owner's own dashing signature is now within the reach of all and every nose. For fifty cents you may have your full name done in any color on a good quality linen handkerchief.

Naturally, the thicker you care to go as to price, the thinner the quality of linen in your hanky will be.

So there you are! And with the hoi polloi blowing over their own hand embroidered signatures, whatever are the elect going to do for an exclusive novelty in the menchoir line. Perhaps they'll work a bit further and have their birth certificates marriage licenses or pedigrees worked out in original design.

Like fairy gossamer are the tiny, handspun linen glove handkerchiefs with wee hand hemstitched or scalloped edges, some with intricate monograms and others with exquisitely embroidered garlands and wreaths.

Wide hems, narrow hems, scallops, lace edging and edges bound in colors are but a few of the manifold manners of finishing these dainty linen squares. To disguise a necessity as a luxury has been achieved with the acme of success in these handkerchiefs of these winter days.

The color note in gayest futuristic or dainty pastel tones enters often either in the hems, the embroidery, or even occasionally colors the entire handkerchief itself.

For infant noses and the undeveloped button noses of puerility, adorable little silk and linen squares bloom with the omnipresent Kewpie in alluring colorings and quaint little cross-stitch people doing everything from hanging out clothes to shooting Indians.

Truly, they would make 'most any small nose gay.

TODAY'S HOOSIER ODDITY

For First Time in History Regular Session of Indiana Raisers Will be at Lafayette.

PROGRAM IS ARRANGED

For the first time in history a regular meeting of Indiana Poultrymen has been called to meet with the Purdue Farmers' Short Course at LaFayette, Indiana, January 11th. This time was chosen for the winter meeting because it was believed that the farmers and fancy poultrymen of Indiana would appreciate a meeting away from a poultry show and in connection with as large an educational affair as the Short Course.

Practically every other agricultural organization meets at Purdue during the week of January 10th-15th for there will be over 2,000 farmers in attendance. A regular five day poultry course is given at this time and much good information will be available for poultrymen.

The program for the State Poultry Association meeting is as follows: 1 p. m. Pres. Address: A. E. Martz, Arcadia, Ind. "Poultry for the Farmer" Ed S. Hobart, Williamsport, Ind. "Poultry for the Fancier" Frank E. Hering, South Bend, Ind., Demonstration, Washing and Preparing Birds for Show, J. F. Strasburger, Greensburg, Ind. Business meeting.

All poultry enthusiasts are invited to attend the meeting. For any further particulars address, A. G. Phillips, secretary, LaFayette, Indiana.

The Rise of Newfoundland.

Newfoundland has had a curious history. Cabot, sailing from Bristol, discovered it in 1497, and in 1583 Sir Humphrey Gilbert annexed its wild and rocky shores for Queen Elizabeth. Yet until 130 years ago it was illegal to build a permanent house there. The island was held by "merchant adventurers" for the sake of the fisheries. They hired their fishermen in England, took them across the Atlantic each spring and brought them back at the commencement of winter.

Newfoundland's importance in the cod fishery arises to a great extent from the fact that it is only within her waters that the small fish desirable as bait can be obtained in the necessary quantities.—London Telegraph.

A Curious Royal Custom.

When any Spanish sovereign dies the body is at once submitted to the process of fossilization, nor can it be placed in the royal pantheon until the body has been absolutely turned into stone. Curiously enough, the period required for fossilization varies considerably. Some royal bodies have become solidified in a very short period, while others have taken years before the fossilization took place.

Message Of Joy To Catarrh Suffers

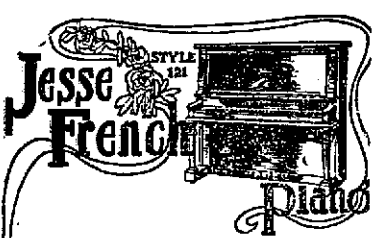

Hyomei Guaranteed by Johnson's Drug Store to Relieve or Money Refunded.

The popularity and increase in sales of Hyomei here in Rushville are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing successes have been made by this remarkable remedy that the proprietors have authorized Johnson's Drug Store to sell every package of Hyomei under an absolute guarantee that it will knock out catarrh for good. If it does not, the purchaser can have his money refunded by Johnson's Drug Store.

Hyomei is no ordinary remedy. It is pronounced the only method of treatment that sends by direct inhalation to the most remote part of the air passages, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and gives permanent and complete relief from catarrh.

The complete outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. This inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle can be obtained for a trifling sum. It is more economical than any remedy advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only treatment known to us that follows nature in her methods of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

SHOWS LEVELING EFFECT OF WAR

Duke of Rutland and Ben Tillett, Strike Leader, Address London Audience on Conflict.

COMPLIMENTS ARE PASSED

Tory Praises People of Tillett's Class and Latter Hands it Back to Aristocracy.

(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

London, Nov. 19. (By Mail)—Imagine John D. Rockefeller introducing Bill Haywood to an audience recreated about equally from the realms of the limousine and the push cart.

That's about like the spectacle at which London was amazed the other afternoon when the Duke of Rutland led Ben Tillett to the stage of His Majesty's Theatre before a thoroughly mixed crowd of "supper" and "lower" class Britishers and launched Ben's lecture on the war.

Rutland—tall, monocled, frock-coated, spatted, with Campaign accent and Mayfair manner, Tillett short, stumpy, sack-coated, baggy-troustered, with an East End jaw and Cockney accent.

The Duke—tory of tories, his family tree rooted in the middle ages, a topnotcher of the British landed gentry, and with certain Americans doubtless would term a "malefactor of great wealth."

The Docker—man of the people, day-laborer, England's most belligerent strike-leader and, in his own words, an "international social revolutionist"—before the war.

It was a graphic illustration of the leveling effect of war in this country of classes.

Duke and Docker were on the same mission—to impress the British public with its responsibility toward the men at the front.

The aristocratic Rutland, praised the patriotism of the hundreds of thousands of Ben Tillett's type who answered the King's call; and Tillett handed it right back to the aristocracy.

With a forcefulness and rugged eloquence that brought as much applause from fashionably clad women in the stalls as from his own friends in pit and gallery, Tillett told how he had seen "toffs" and truckmen on the Flanders battlefield fighting, playing, eating, sleeping, dying side by side. "Whether they came from Elton or Oxford, or from Bethnal Green," he said, "when they faced the bellish German fire they were as one man."

He had met a young officer, a "knot" of the ultra-Piccadilly club variety, whose conversation was as inane as his countenance—"but," said Ben, "he had grit, and the men recognized it and loved him; and there was not one of them but would have laid down his life for him any time."

His message was that despite the deadly determination and cheerful optimism of the men at the front England couldn't hope to defeat Germany until the folks at home saw to it that they were provided with a preponderating supply of munitions.

"For shells we must give 'em more shells," he shouted, "for gas more gas—and for hell. More hell!" "Heah! Heah!" cried the stalls; "ear; 'ear!" bawled the gallery.

Not Much.

"Is it true, mamma," asked Ethel, "that the ostrich hides its head in the sand?"

"Yes, dear; they say that is the case."

"Well, mamma, when you wear an ostrich feather you never hide your head, do you?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Early Ballooning.

As early as 1788 the French government granted a sum of money to establish a balloon service between Paris and Marseilles with what were known as the Montgolfier air balloons, though the project never became more than a project.

Oranges.

Oranges are a most valuable fruit. Orange juice allays thirst and with few exceptions is well borne by the weakest stomach. It is also a laxative, and if taken at night or before breakfast it will be found most beneficial.

Saluting the Quarter Decks.

In response to an inquiry as to why officers and men of the navy "salute the deck" and civilians remove their hats when going aboard a naval vessel it may be said that, though commonly called a "salute to the deck," the salute in question is really a salute to the flag. For instance, at night on reaching the quarter deck or upon leaving it no salute is required, as the flag is, of course, not flying. The fact that this salute is rendered upon reaching the quarter deck from below or when coming on board and upon leaving the quarter deck, as when leaving the ship, is probably responsible for its having been known as a salute to the deck; but, as has been stated, it is really a salute to the flag. Men should when rendering it stop, stand erect and face the flag.—Philadelphia Press.

Stevenson's Cheerfulness.

"I shall never forget Mr. Stevenson," said a captain who commanded a ship on which Robert Louis Stevenson sailed. "The ship had broken her shaft and was delayed. He cheered everybody up by telling funny stories that were better coming offhand from his lips than most literary men could write if they worked over them for weeks. He knew, too, that it was only a question of a short time before he would die of consumption and that he could never again go home for more than a brief visit. It was simply wonderful what a difference that one man made among the passengers, and I guess almost all of us would gladly spend the time to make port under sail, with machinery disabled, if we could have a Stevenson aboard."

Spurgeon was Noncommittal.

The Rev. W. Williams, in his "Personal Reminiscences of C. H. Spurgeon," tells an anecdote concerning the great preacher as a smoker. Some gentleman wrote to Mr. Spurgeon, saying: "He had heard he smoked and could not believe it was true. Would Mr. Spurgeon write and tell if it really was so?" The reply was sent as follows: "Dear —, I cultivate my flowers and burn my weeds. Yours truly, C. H. Spurgeon."

Making It Clear.

"Now, my good man, before we start out in your machine let us understand each other perfectly."

"Well, what is it?"

"I am not desirous of seeing how fast you can drive this car; it is the scenery I wish to see."
